First of all, you may consider cut down your household expenses. One of the things you can consider is to cut down your electricity bill. You should make sure that you only use appliances which are energy efficient. Besides, you should not switch on the air conditioner when it is not needed. In fact, switching on a fan will be good enough in most cases. You will find that you can save a lot if you do not always switch the air conditioner on.

Besides, there are people who tend to buy new appliances such as TV sets every year. This is because they want to keep up with the latest trend and technology. However, this will certainly cost you a lot of money. You should only buy a new appliance when you really need it. You should understand that this will certainly help you to spend less and you can save more money in your saving account.

You may also consider using second items. As you may know, it is a lot cheaper to buy a second hand item than buying a new one. The price of a second hand mobile phone will only be a fraction of a new one. However, you should always bear in mind that you have to check the item carefully when you are purchasing a second hand item. It will only cost you more money if you purchase a second hand item only to find out that it does not work! Yet you will be able to save a lot if you can purchase second hand items wisely.

Apart from the above, you will also be able to save more money if you cook yourself.
